The Symbol

Multiply your award investment

- Symbolism – what does the award represent?
- Exclusivity – what is required to earn it?
- Differentiation – how does it relate to other awards in its category?
- Residual Value – how will it remind the recipient and others of the achievement?

The Symbol

Then: Award items lack connection to the company mission

Now: Awards reflect the company mission

Why: Send a consistent message about what your company values.

Application: Implement award options that reflect symbolism of the achievement, and align with corporate values

The Symbol

GREEN Recognition

- > Eliminate paper waste with online tools
 - Peer nomination
 - Award Redemption
- > "Green" Award Items

Video Personalization

- > Personalized congratulatory message to award recipients

The Statement

The greatest honor is to honor others

Choosing a Presenter:

- Personal connection to the recipient
- Understand the individual's job function and achievements
- Understand how the recipient's contributions impact the success of the organization

The Statement

General Guidelines

- ✓ Be sensitive to shy recipients
- ✓ Use humor with caution
- ✓ Not the time for constructive criticism
- ✓ Avoid unintentional promises of continual employment
- ✓ Stay away from comments about race, gender or religion

Sample Presentation Remarks

"I'd like to thank you for your years of service with ABC Company. In that short time, you have made a big impact on the organization. I won't forget, within the first 6 months of hire date, you took the initiative to see to the department's ongoing success. The skills you brought to the new president, the department and yourself, resulted in a process that has helped us improve the industry. It's a pleasure that will continue to impact me as I bring you people to work. I hope you will continue to be successful in your new position while you are going to help me as I bring you people to work. I'm so much impressed with the way that you have handled the situation. Thank you and congratulations!"
